

THEORY OF CHANGE

What is the problem you are trying to solve?

There are more than 25 million refugees in the world and more than half of them are youths and children. Most live in places that are harsh and void of resources, our goal is to impact global refugee policies that will bring change to the way the world sees and treats refugees globally and empower young people to do so.

Who is your key audience?

States, refugee communities. governments. UNHCR, NGOs, and INGOs

What is your entry point to reaching vour audience?

Through consultations. conferences. global platforms, social & digital media

What steps are needed to bring about change?

refugee voices are taken into consideration and allowed to impact themselves for their future. Allowing refugees to be part of the discussions and conversations with states and governments to allow then to come up with their own solutions and action plans surable effect of vour work? The inclusion of Making sure that refugee voices during the decision-making process measurable effect? refugee

What is the mea-

Actively allowing participation and providing key action points measurable effect?

The shift in the refugee narrative to a world where everyone is free to move about

What are the wider benefits of your work?

Key points from a refugee's POV that will help to inspire them wider benefits?

A newer way to look at how refugees can help states and governments impact their lives

wider benefits?

Changing the narrative of the world seeing a refugee as a refugee, instead of a human

What is the longterm change you see as your goal?

The global inclusion of refugees as a conversation and globally allowing evervone the benefit to move about freely without fear or judgement. Opening up states and countries to allow refugee rights as the same rights as human rights.

KEY ASSUMPTIONS

Refugees to represent refugees in discussions

KEY ASSUMPTIONS

Refugees to be allowed to address key members

KEY ASSUMPTIONS

Refugee representation allowed in all areas of discussion

KEY ASSUMPTIONS

States & governments to be open to suggestions and action plans

KEY ASSUMPTIONS

Regular refugee engagement to make sure action plans are accepted

KEY ASSUMPTIONS

Acceptance of refugees globally

STAKEHOLDERS States,

Governments, NGOs, UNHCR, INGOs